President's Message

Welcome to May, and we say hello to the mayflies. Our fly fishing really heats up around this time, and the season is upon us!

I enjoyed Wayne Simpson's talk on wet flies, and the different uses and patterns going back to the early days in England. Maybe someday in the future, in a distant galaxy, there will be a presentation of the history of trout fishing in the Ozarks. Hopefully those will be kind words.

As I mentioned at the meeting, Hanna Yates from Channel 5 is still interested in doing a story on us, but Bob Plagers passing and other stories have grabbed her focus. I thought we were forgotten, but she sent a note that we are still on her to-do list.

It was good to hear Steve A plans to have our annual visit to Bennett Springs for the November opening of catch and release re-instated! If not earlier, then maybe that will begin our "return to normal." One can only hope.

I was told the Taneycomo trip was good, both in the quantity and quality of fish. I understand it was a little difficult to book a guide, so maybe an early phone call would help next time. Phil Lillley treats us right, too. I heard stopping at Bennett on the way home produced even more good fishing. Gotta believe these are glimpses of a better year and getting back to normal.

Hoping to get Governor Nixon to complete that one page description of stream waterway rights, and he was forwarded an earlier piece from a smallmouth group.

At Oakville Senior High School I did a fly fishing presentation, this time with casting instruction. Some showed promise and it was a good visit. Maybe a few will follow up on the business cards and brochures I passed out. I heard Mehlville High School may have a similar interest. Good to see young arms casting a fly line. Kinda wish the school year had a little more time!

So, it seems we are slowly getting back on the streams and look forward to meeting in person. Be well my friends.

Fly of the Month – May 2021

Super Simple Snowshoe Caddis

Here in Missouri, what we lack in mayflies we more than make up for in caddis. While I really enjoy our little BWOs and PMDs, they do not generate nearly the interest as our prolific caddis emergences draw – for both fish and fly fishermen. Few bugs draw more fish up to feed on the top chasing the emergers swimming to the surface, the fluttering and skittering adults, and the bouncing and diving egg-laying flies. In addition, caddis are kind of chunky, bushy, motley bugs. Not too big, not too small. Not too technical or difficult to tie. This fly can actually imitate all three phases of caddis “hatches”. It can be an emerger, an adult, and an egg-laying dun. This one shown is tied in black for Bennett Springs, but can be tied in any color.

Materials

- Hook: Standard Dry Fly hook (preferably barbless) #14-18
- Thread: 8/0 – 12/0 Veevus Black - or color of your fly
- Body: Hare’s Ear Dubbing Black – or your choice of color
- Ribbing – Fine Silver Wire
- Wing: Dyed Snowshoe Hare hair
- Head: Snowshoe Hair butts

Tying Steps

1. Secure hook in vise and start thread behind hook eye and cover hook shank with thread.
2. Tie in a length of fine silver wire.
3. Dub a tapered body of hare’s ear dubbing – color of your choice to two eye lengths from the eye.
4. Trim out a section of snowshoe hare hair. Pull out any really long guard hairs, and any soft underfur.
5. Tie in showshoe hare hair as a wing on top of hook shank extending to the end of the hook shank.
6. Trim any excess material neatly leaving the butts as a head and secure with a few more thread wraps.

This is kind of a dumbed-down do-it-all caddis pattern. Showshoe hare floats very well so it can be fished as a dry with minimum fuss or dressing. It can also be pulled under the surface and swung in the current as an emerger/egg/laying diving caddis. Try it in natural hare’s ear, olive, or tan in a couple of different sizes. You can also add a tuft of white snowshoe hair in top to increase visibility.

Treasure's Report – May 2021

In my report, at the March 25th club meeting held on ZOOM, I reported that our club's income stream has basically dried up due to the Covid-19 pandemic. Our biggest fundraiser, the annual banquet and auction was cancelled, we do not have our monthly raffles at the meetings, we waived the membership dues for a year since we were not allowed to gather in numbers etc. Unfortunately, our fixed expenses remain just that, fixed. Our two club insurance policies, post office box, website expenses, speaker fees, ZOOM subscription, etc., are just a few expenses that come to mind. In 2020, the club ran a deficit of $4,899.00, and we are projecting a deficit of $5,744.00 for 2021.

Ozark Fly Fishers is a tax-exempt organization, and any donations can be itemized on your taxes as you do with other organizations you might donate to. At last month's meeting I reached out to those members in attendance to consider donating to the club to help offset some of the fixed expenses and lessen the deficits projected. We are tax-exempt and you can use this to your advantage when doing your taxes.

Since that meeting, the club has already received donations from several club members totaling $550.00 whom I would like to thank for their consideration. If any others would like to contribute, there is still plenty of time to support OFF. Any donations to help offset these deficits are greatly appreciated. If you are interested in supporting your club in this manner, you can make your donation out to OZARK FLY FISHERS, and in the memo line, just note, donation. You can mail your donation to either our club Post Office Box or directly to my house
